A Message from Alicia

We are living in an historical moment for sure. We're all doing our very best to adapt to these changes and still move on with life.

Currently, with all the unknowns right now, our April calendar is blank! We are intent on keeping our patrons, community and staff safe during this unprecedented time.

Here's what we know for sure going forward.

The Library will be closed at least through April 13th. We don't know if that date will change or if it doesn't what our open hours and programming will look like. We will wait and see what the Governor, Michigan Library Association and American Library Association recommends.

Until then, we are sending out resources on our Facebook page pretty regularly to help give our patrons access to digital collections that are available.

Among some of these resources are:

Overdrive & Libby, Gutenberg Project, MeL Databases, and the National Emergency Library.

I am happy to help you in any way that I can from a distance. Please feel free to E-mail at any time: lovelylibrary@live.com or message the Library on Facebook. I am working from home and I am checking both regularly.

Also, if you currently do not have a library card and would like to access our E-books, we can now get you started from home. Just head to our website and fill out the remote library card form OR just e-mail me and I'll take care of it.

Much love from my house to yours.

~Alicia
