New Books

It's that time of year again: the kids are heading back to school! Whether they are attending classes at school or at home, remember that your library has lots of resources for parents and students. The Michigan eLibrary (mel.org) has a large database of online resources for students and educators, including everything from scholarly articles to car repair manuals. Younger readers will love our new collection of VOX Books.

They come with a built-in recording to use as a read-along. Also, don't forget about MelCat! We can request and borrow books from other Michigan libraries. So if we don't have it on our shelves, we can still get it into your hands. Let us help make this school year a success!

NEWS THIS MONTH

The Summer Reading Program was a success! We had lots of fun outdoor programming and all of the drawing winners above! Highlights this year were a Big Foot Hunt, the animal shows, and the build-your-own stuffed animal program.

Thank you again to our sponsors and participants!

Help us give Debie Gossman a warm welcome! A familiar face and long time friend, she is back at J.C. Wheeler, and we are thrilled! Welcome, Debie!
